Risks

Please refer to the section on “Risk Factors” in the Company’s Prospectus for a description of the risk factors associated with investing in the Underlying Funds of the Company. The risks may include:

General Risks

You should consider and satisfy yourself as to the risks of investing in the Underlying Funds. There can be no assurance that the Underlying Funds will achieve its investment objectives. You should be aware that the price of Shares in the Underlying Funds, and the income from them, may fall or rise and you may not get back your original investment in the Underlying Funds, especially if investments are not held for the long term. The Underlying Funds may exhibit significant price volatility.

General market risks

Investments of the Underlying Funds may go up or down due to changing economic, political or market conditions that impact the share price of companies or price of securities that the Underlying Funds invest in.

Emerging markets risks

The Underlying Funds invest in markets where economic and regulatory risk can be significant. These factors can affect liquidity, settlement and asset values. Any such event can have a negative effect on the value of your investment.

Inflation risks

The Underlying Funds offer limited capital growth potential and an income that is not linked to inflation. Inflation can therefore affect the value of capital and income of the Underlying Funds over time.

Counterparty risks

The Underlying Funds invests in securities whose value would be significantly affected if the securities issuer either refused, was unable to, or was perceived to be unable to pay.

Interest rate risks

Changes in interest rates are likely to affect the values of fixed income securities held by the Underlying Funds. In general, as interest rates rise, the price of a fixed rate bond will fall, and vice versa. Duration is a measure of the extent to which this is the case, with a longer duration suggesting higher sensitivity to interest rate moves.

Volatility risks

The Underlying Funds may exhibit significant price volatility.

Liquidity risks

The Underlying Funds may invest in assets that are not always readily saleable without suffering a discount to fair value. The Underlying Funds may have to lower the selling price, sell other investments or forego another more appealing investment opportunity as a result.

Valuation risks

Some Underlying Funds may invest in assets that are not readily realisable or may be hard to value. The value of these assets is a matter of the relevant valuation agent’s policy and the true value may not be recognised until the asset is sold.

Risks of investment in Below Investment Grade Securities

The Underlying Funds invests in debt securities rated below Investment Grade which entails special risks and may not be appropriate for all investors. While offering a greater potential opportunity for capital appreciation and higher yields, debt securities rated below Investment Grade typically entail greater potential price volatility and may be less liquid than higher rated securities.

Soft Dollar Commissions or Arrangements

The Authorised Corporate Director (the “ACD”) / the Management Company (“ManCo”) and Threadneedle Asset Management Limited (the “Investment Manager”) may enter into commission sharing arrangements with broker-dealers under which certain business services are obtained from such broker-dealers directly or from third parties and are paid for by the broker-dealers out of the commissions they receive on transactions for the Company / the SICAV. Consistent with obtaining best execution, brokerage commissions on portfolio transactions for the Company / SICAV may be specifically allocated by the ACD/ManCo or the Investment Manager to broker-dealers in consideration of any research services rendered as well as for services rendered in the execution of orders by such broker-dealers. Commission sharing arrangements are subject to the following conditions: (i) the ACD/ManCo or the Investment Manager will act at all times in the best interest of the Company / SICAV and of its Shareholders when entering into commission sharing arrangements; (ii) the services provided will be in direct relationship to the activities of the ACD/ManCo or the Investment Manager; (iii) brokerage commissions on portfolio transactions for the Company / SICAV will be allocated by the ACD/ManCo or the Investment Manager to broker-dealers that are entities and not to individuals; (iv) commission sharing arrangements are not a determining factor in the selection of the broker-dealers; (v) the ACD/ManCo or the Investment Manager will provide reports to the Directors with respect to commission sharing arrangements including the nature of the services it receives; (vi) neither the ACD/ManCo, the Investment Manager nor any of their connected persons may retain cash or other rebates from broker-dealers; (vii) the goods or services received are of demonstrable benefit to the Shareholders; and (viii) periodic disclosure will be made in the Company / SICAV’s annual report in the form of statement describing the ACD/ManCo’s commission sharing arrangements, including a description of the goods and services received. The goods and services received may include: research that can add value to an Investment Manager’s decision making process and execution services that enhance the Investment Manager’s ability to execute transactions.

Conflicts of Interest

The ACD/ManCo, the Investment Manager and other companies within the group of companies to which they belong (the “Group”, which for the avoidance of doubt includes Columbia Management Investment Advisers, LLC in their provision of investment advice supported by research and investment recommendations) may, from time to time, act as the investment manager or adviser to other funds or sub-funds which follow similar investment objectives to the Funds of the Company / SICAV. It is therefore possible that the ACD/ManCo and/or the Investment Manager may in the course of their business have potential conflicts of interest with the Company / SICAV or a particular Fund.

Each member of the Group will, however, have regard to its legal obligations and, in particular, to its obligation to act in the best interests of the Company / SICAV so far as practicable, having regard to its obligations to other clients when undertaking any investment where potential conflicts of interest may arise.

As more than one company within the Group will have access to the same information, and may be trading in the same investments through different trading desks, policies and procedures are in place to manage this potential conflict. Where a conflict of interest cannot be avoided, the ACD/ManCo will ensure that the Company / SICAV and the other funds it manages are treated fairly.

The ACD/ManCo acknowledges that there may be some situations where the organisational or administrative arrangements in place for the management of conflicts of interest are not sufficient to ensure, with reasonable confidence, that risks of damage to the interests of the Company / SICAV or its shareholders will be prevented. Should any such situations arise the ACD/ManCo will disclose these to shareholders in an appropriate format, ordinarily this will be in the Report and Financial Statements of the Company / SICAV.

Citibank Europe plc, UK Branch and Citibank Europe PLC, Luxembourg Branch (the “Depositaries”) may act as the depositary of other companies.

From time to time conflicts may arise between the Depositaries and the delegates or sub-delegates, for example where an appointed delegate or sub-delegate is an affiliated group company which receives remuneration for other custodial services it provides to the Funds. In the event of any potential conflict of interest which may arise during the normal course of business, the Depositaries will have regard to applicable laws.
