<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>In actively managing the Underlying Fund, the Investment Manager invests in securities that it believes are positively exposed to environmentally- or socially-oriented sustainable investment themes derived from the UN Sustainable Development Goals (UNSDGs). The Investment Manager employs a combination of “top-down” and “bottom-up” investment processes. For the “top-down” approach, the Investment Manager identifies sustainable investment themes that are broadly consistent with achieving the UNSDGs such as Health, Climate, and Empowerment. These sustainable investment themes may change over time based on the Investment Manager’s research. For the “bottom-up” approach, the Investment Manager analyses individual companies, focusing on assessing a company’s exposure to environmental, social and governance (ESG) factors. The Investment Manager emphasises positive selection criteria, in particular by analysing the exposure to such ESG factors of each security or issuer, over broad-based negative screens in assessing an issuer’s exposure to such ESG factors.</li> <li>Under normal market conditions, the Underlying Fund typically invests at least 80% of its assets in equity securities of issuers that the Investment Manager believes are positively aligned with sustainable investment themes. The Underlying Fund mainly invests in securities of companies that are organised, or have substantial business activities, in the US. These companies may be of any market capitalisation and industry.</li> <li>The Underlying Fund’s equity investments may include convertible securities, REITs and ETFs.</li> <li>The Underlying Fund may be exposed to any currency.</li> <li>The Underlying Fund may use derivatives for efficient portfolio management (“EPM”), hedging or investment purposes.</li> </ul>	Refer to “Investment Objective, Focus and Approach” and “Derivatives and Techniques” in the Underlying Fund’s Prospectus for further information on the investment strategy of sub-fund.

Product-Specific Risks

You are exposed to Derivatives Risks.

- Derivatives are financial contracts whose value is derived from that of an underlying asset, rate or eligible index. Small movements in the value of an underlying asset, reference rate or eligible index can create large changes in the value of a derivative, making derivatives highly volatile in general and exposing the Underlying Fund to potential losses significantly greater than the cost of the derivative. The Underlying Fund may use derivatives for various reasons, such as hedging, EPM and investment purposes. Derivatives are specialised instruments that require investment techniques and risk analyses different from those associated with traditional securities. Derivatives are subject to the risks of the underlying asset(s), typically in modified and greatly amplified form, as well as carrying their own risks.

You are exposed to Equity Securities Risks

- Equities can lose value rapidly, in response to such factors as activities of individual companies, general market or economic conditions, or changes in currency exchange rates. Equities typically involve higher (often significantly higher) market risks than bonds, money market instruments, or other debt securities. Purchases of initial public offerings of stock (IPOs) may involve higher risks due to various factors including limited shares, unseasoned trading, lack of investor knowledge and lack of operating history of the issuing company.

You are exposed to Sustainability Risks

- Sustainability risk means an environmental, social, or governance event or condition that, if it occurs, could potentially or actually cause a material negative impact on the value of the Underlying Fund’s investment. Sustainability risks can either represent a risk of their own or have an impact on other risks, and may contribute significantly to risks, such as market risks, operational risks, liquidity risks or counterparty risks. Sustainability risks may have an impact on long-term risk adjusted returns for investors. Assessment of sustainability risks is complex and may be based on environmental, social, or governance data which is difficult to obtain and incomplete, estimated, out of date or otherwise materially inaccurate. Even when identified, there can be no guarantee that these data will be correctly assessed.

 For a partial withdrawal request of 1000 units of an investment-linked fund.

 The amount payable to the policyholder will be S$1500, which is calculated as 1000 units x S$1.50.
