Please refer to the section on “Risk Factors” in the Allianz Global Investors Fund Singapore Prospectus for a description of the risk factors associated with investing in the Underlying Fund. The risks include:

General Risk

You should consider and satisfy yourself as to the risks of investing in the Underlying Fund. These risks may adversely impact the net asset value of the Underlying Fund and cause you to lose some or all of your investment. There can be no assurance that the Underlying Fund will achieve their investment objectives. The value of the Shares in the Underlying Fund and the income accruing to the shares, if any, may fall or rise, and you may not realise the value of your initial investment.

Currency Risk

If the Underlying Fund directly or indirectly (via derivatives) holds assets denominated in currencies other than its Base Currency or if a Share Class of the Underlying Fund is designated in a currency other than the Base Currency of the Underlying Fund (each a “foreign currency”), it is exposed to a currency risk that if foreign currency positions have not been hedged or if there is any change in the relevant exchange control regulations, the NAV of the Underlying Fund or that Share Class may be affected unfavourably. Any devaluation of the foreign currency against the Base Currency of the Underlying Fund would cause the value of the assets denominated in the foreign currency to fall, and as a result may have an adverse impact on the Underlying Fund and/or the investors.

Subject to the specific investment restrictions of the Underlying Fund, the Management Company may use financial derivative instruments to hedge the foreign currency exposure and currency hedging transactions may be entered into in relation to one or more Share Classes. Hedging can be used in particular to reflect the different currency-hedged Share Classes. Please refer to Appendix 1 of the Luxembourg Prospectus for further information on the use of financial derivative instruments and to Section IX.3.2 of the Luxembourg Prospectus headed “Reference Currency” for further information on the different hedging policies applicable to different Share Classes.

You should note that the Underlying Fund are not normally fully invested in assets denominated in Singapore dollars, the Base Currency of the Underlying Fund is not Singapore dollars and the Reference Currency of the Share Classes you invest into may not be Singapore Dollars. Unless otherwise indicated in respect of the particular Underlying Fund or Share Class, the Management Company does not intend to hedge against currency fluctuations between the Singapore Dollar and that of the Underlying Fund Base Currency and / or the Reference Currency of the Share Classes of the respective Underlying Fund. If your Reference Currency is Singapore dollars, you may therefore be exposed to an additional exchange rate risk.

Consequently, you may only redeem your shares in the manner described in paragraph 9 of the Allianz Global Investors Fund Singapore Prospectus. The right to redeem shares in the Underlying Fund may also be suspended under certain circumstances as further described in paragraph 9.3 and paragraph 12 of the Allianz Global Investors Fund Singapore Prospectus
