| Underlying Fund | Investment Objective, Focus & Approach |
|--|--|
| Neuberger Berman Global Value Fund USD A Acc | The Underling Fund seeks to achieve long term capital growth from investing primarily in a portfolio of global equity holdings that comply with the Sustainable Criteria (which refers to the terms of the Neuberger Berman Sustainable Exclusion Policy as defined under the section headed “Sustainable Investment Criteria” in the Irish Prospectus). |

Risks

The ILP sub-fund is not listed on the Singapore Exchange and you can redeem only on Business Days through Singapore Life Ltd. In respect of Singapore investors, there is no secondary market for the ILP sub-fund. The value of the Underlying Fund may rise or fall. Investments in the Underlying Fund are subjected to various risks, as elaborated below.

Equity Securities Risk

Investment in equity securities in general are subject to market risks that may cause their prices to fluctuate over time due to various factors, such as changes in investment sentiment, political and economic conditions and issuer-specific factors. The value of convertible equity securities is also affected by prevailing interest rates, the credit quality of the issuer and any call provisions. These would cause the NAV of the Underlying Fund to fluctuate.

Emerging Market Economies Risk

Investing in emerging markets may involve heightened risks (some of which could be significant) such as greater social, economic and political uncertainty, and periods of extreme volatility. Separately, bid and offer spreads of the price of securities may be significant and accordingly, the Underlying Fund may incur significant trading costs.

Currency Risk

The base currency value of the investment of the Underlying Fund designated in another currency may rise and fall due to exchange rate fluctuations in respect of the relevant currencies. Adverse movements in currency exchange rates can result in a decrease in return of and a loss of capital. The currency exchange rates of Emerging Market Countries tend to be more volatile than those of more developed countries. As the base currency of the Underlying Fund is not in Singapore dollars, Singapore investors may be exposed to an additional currency risk.

Currency Hedging Risk

Currency hedging instruments may involve the risk of a default by a counterparty.

Sustainable Investment Style Risk

The application of ESG criteria could affect the Underlying Fund’s exposure and could impact the Underlying Fund’s investment performance. Information used to evaluate the application of ESG factors may not be readily available, complete or accurate, which could negatively impact the Underlying Fund’s performance or create additional risk.

Risks relating to the use of FDI

FDIs may be subject to various types of risks, including market risk, liquidity risk, counterparty credit risk, legal risk and operations risk. In addition, FDIs can involve significant economic leverage and may, in some cases, involve high risk of significant loss. The use of FDIs may lead to risk of loss of capital or increase the volatility of the Underlying Fund’s NAV.

Please refer to “Risk Factors” of the Underlying Funds’ Prospectus for further information on risks of the Underlying Funds.

The above should not be considered to be an exhaustive list of the risks which you should consider before investing into the Underlying Fund. You should be aware that an investment in the Underlying Fund may be exposed to other risks of an exceptional nature from time to time.
