² In order for units in the ILP sub-fund to be classified as Excluded Investment Products, the investment objectives and investment focus of the ILP sub-fund, and investment approach of the manager have to be stated in the product summary:

(a) to invest only in deposits or other Excluded Investment Products; and
(b) not to engage in securities lending or repurchase transactions for the ILP sub-fund.

The definition of “Excluded Investment Product” can be found in Annex 1 to the Notice on Recommendations on Investment Products [Notice No. FAA-N16] at <https://www.mas.gov.sg/regulation/notices/notice-faa-n16>.

• The Manager delegates management of the Underlying Fund to Neuberger Berman Canada ULC who in turn sub-delegates an allocation of those assets to Neuberger Berman Investment Advisers LLC. Neuberger Berman Europe Limited is appointed to manage any portion of the Underlying Fund's assets that is not allocated to Neuberger Berman Canada ULC or any other Sub-Investment Manager which is appointed to the Underlying Fund. • The Underlying Fund will seek to achieve its objective by investing primarily in equity securities issued by companies that are listed or traded on Recognised Markets globally (which include both developed and Emerging Market Countries). The Sub-Investment Manager may select from an investable universe which consists of equity securities issued by companies domiciled in countries which are represented in the Benchmarks (the "Investable Universe"). • The Underlying Fund seeks to reduce risk by diversifying among many industries within the countries and economic sectors it identifies. Although it has the flexibility to invest a significant portion of its assets in any one country or region, it generally intends to remain diversified across countries and geographical regions. • As part of the investment process, the Sub-Investment Manager promotes a variety of environmental and social characteristics, derived and promoted using a blend of environmental and social characteristics derived from the NB ESG Quotient and a themes based ESG rating system (together the "Composite Quotient Score"). Companies with a favourable and/or an improving Composite Quotient Score have a higher chance of being included in the Underlying Fund. Companies with a poor Composite Quotient Score, especially where a poor Composite Quotient Score is not being addressed by a company, are more likely to be removed from the investment universe or divested from the Underlying Fund. However, there is no minimum Composite Quotient Score to be attained by a company prior to the Underlying Fund investing in it. • The Underlying Fund may invest in excess of 20% of its NAV in equity securities issued by companies domiciled in Emerging Market Countries. • The investment process seeks to achieve value style exposure by identifying assets that the Sub-Investment Manager believes are priced below their fair value. They seek to achieve this in six phases: identify bottom-up investment themes which are believed to be persistent drivers of excess return ("return factors"), determine the exposure of every equity in the Investable Universe to each return factor, rate each such equity, evaluate risk, reduce exposure to equities that are poorly rated or are considered to carry higher risk and increase exposure to equities that are comparatively highly rated or that are considered to carry relatively lower risk. • The Underlying Fund is reassessed on a regular basis to incorporate new information as it arises, at least monthly and more frequently if market conditions require. The Underlying Fund's investments are monitored daily and individual stocks can be sold at the discretion of the Sub-Investment Manager, due to significant changes in business, environment or company events. New purchases are derived from the reassessment of the investment universe, using the investment process for the Underlying Fund. • The Underlying Fund may invest in securities which provide exposure to the Investable Universe that meet, at a minimum, the Sustainable Criteria. The Sub-Investment Manager considers ESG risks and opportunities among other risk and return factors in the evaluation of securities for the purposes of holding and weighting securities in the Underlying Fund. • Repo Contracts and Securities Lending Agreements may be used subject to the conditions and limits set out in the Underlying Fund's Prospectus. The Underlying Fund will not utilise total return swaps, securities lending or margin lending. • The Underlying Fund may use FDIs for investment purposes, efficient portfolio management purposes and hedging purposes. The Underlying Fund may or may be expected to have medium to high levels of volatility due to its investment policies or portfolio management techniques.	Refer to "INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE, FOCUS AND APPROACH" of the Underlying Fund's Singapore Prospectus for further information on the investment strategy of the sub-fund.

Equity Securities Risk – Investment in equity securities in general are subject to market risks that may cause their prices to fluctuate over time due to various factors, such as changes in investment sentiment, political and economic conditions and issuer-specific factors. The value of convertible equity securities is also affected by prevailing interest rates, the credit quality of the issuer and any call provisions. These would cause the NAV of the Underlying Fund to fluctuate. Emerging Market Economies Risk – Investing in emerging markets may involve heightened risks (some of which could be significant) such as greater social, economic and political uncertainty, and periods of extreme volatility. Separately, bid and offer spreads of the price of securities may be significant and accordingly, the Underlying Fund may incur significant trading costs. Currency Risk – The base currency value of the investment of the Underlying Fund designated in another currency may rise and fall due to exchange rate fluctuations in respect of the relevant currencies. Adverse movements in currency exchange rates can result in a decrease in return of and a loss of capital. The currency exchange rates of Emerging Market Countries tend to be more volatile than those of more developed countries. As the base currency of the Underlying Fund is not in Singapore dollars, Singapore investors may be exposed to an additional currency risk. Currency Hedging Risk – Currency hedging instruments may involve the risk of a default by a counterparty. Sustainable Investment Style Risk – The application of ESG criteria could affect the Underlying Fund’s exposure and could impact the Underlying Fund’s investment performance. Information used to evaluate the application of ESG factors may not be readily available, complete or accurate, which could negatively impact the Underlying Fund’s performance or create additional risk.
