Market and Credit Risks
You may be exposed to equity securities risk – Investment in equity securities in general are subject to market risks that may cause their prices to fluctuate over time due to various factors, such as changes in investment sentiment, political and economic conditions and issuer-specific factors. The value of convertible equity securities is also affected by prevailing interest rates, the credit quality of the issuer and any call provisions. These would cause the NAV of the Underlying Fund to fluctuate.

You may be exposed to emerging market economies risk – Investing in emerging markets may involve heightened risks (some of which could be significant) such as greater social, economic and political uncertainty, and periods of extreme volatility. You may be exposed to risks associated with the Stock Connect – The Underlying Fund may invest through Stock Connect, which subjects the Underlying Fund to risks such as risks of the relevant rules and regulations on Stock Connect changing and the Underlying Fund’s ability to access the Eligible Securities market through Stock Connect being affected by, amongst others, quota limitations imposed on Stock Connect trading or trading suspensions and additional legal, regulatory and operational risk arising from Stock Connect. You may be exposed to currency Risk – The base currency value of the investment of the Underlying Fund designated in another currency may rise and fall due to exchange rate fluctuations in respect of the relevant currencies. The currency exchange rates of Emerging Market Countries tend to be more volatile than those of more developed countries. As the base currency of the Underlying Fund is not in Singapore dollars, Singapore investors may be exposed to an additional currency risk. You may be exposed to currency hedging risk – Currency hedging instruments may involve the risk of a default by a counterparty. You may be exposed to risks associated with Next Generation Connectivity – The Underlying Fund’s investments in companies that offer exposure to Next Generation Connectivity which are likely to be affected by regulatory and world-wide rapid technological developments. Companies in this sector may face dramatic and often unpredictable changes in growth rates and competition among the companies themselves. As such, these companies are subject to cyber security risks which may cause issues like system breakdown, suspension of offering of products or services etc, and result in undesirable legal, financial, operational and reputational consequences. All of these may have an adverse impact on the value of the Underlying Fund’s investments. The investments in Next Generation Connectivity may not achieve the desired results under all circumstances and market conditions.
