These Portfolio rebalancing activities may result in Portfolio turnover which may not be foreseen or anticipated at the inception of each underlying client Portfolio depending on the nature and timing of inception of each underlying client Portfolio.

6. Risks

There are risks involved for investment into the Portfolios. Some of key risks include the following:

a) Concentration risk

The Portfolios may at any point in time be highly concentrated in its investment or be held significantly in cash. A Portfolio could be subject to significant losses if it holds a large position in a particular security that declines in value or is otherwise adversely affected, including default of the issuer.

b) Portfolio and market risk

The price of securities can and does fluctuate, and any individual security may experience upward or downward movements and may even become valueless. There is an inherent risk that losses may be incurred rather than profit made as a result of buying and selling securities and there can be no assurance that the Asset Manager will achieve its investment objectives.

c) Emerging markets and liquidity risks

Some of the markets where investments will be made are emerging markets, and as a consequence tend to be substantially smaller, less liquid, less regulated and more volatile than major securities markets, such as those in more developed markets. The limited liquidity of securities in some emerging countries could also affect the ability to acquire or dispose of securities at the price and at the time that the Asset Manager wishes to do so.

d) Political, economic, legal, regulatory and social developments

Markets are influenced by the political, economic, legal, regulatory and social developments in the jurisdictions concerned, and may be uncertain and may increase the risk of investment.

e) Currency exchange risk

The sub-funds may be invested primarily in securities denominated in various currencies and any income received from those investments will be received in those currencies, some of which may fall in value against the value of the currency initially placed for investment. There is therefore a currency exchange risk which may affect the value of the investments to the extent to which the Asset Manager makes such investments.

f) Counterparty and broker risks

Transactions executed with counterparties and brokers are dependent on their respective due performance of their obligations. The insolvency or default of such counterparties and brokers may lead to positions being liquidated or closed out and/or may result in difficulties in recovering your monies and assets held.

g) Taxation

Investors should note in particular that the proceeds from the sale of securities in some markets or the receipt of any dividends and other income may be or may become subject to tax, levies, duties or other fees or charges imposed by the authorities in that market, including taxation levied by withholding at source. Tax law and practice in certain countries into which the sub-funds invest or may invest in the future may not be clearly established. It is therefore possible that the current interpretation of the law or understanding of practice may change, or that the law may be changed with retrospective effect.

You should refer to the prospectus of the respective Underlying Funds for more details relating to the risk factors. The risks described above are not exhaustive and you should be aware that the investment in the Portfolios may be exposed to other risks of an exceptional nature from time to time.

7. Subscriptions and premium allocation

Each premium contribution, net of applicable charges, will be invested into respective ILP sub-funds based on the prevailing Portfolio's weightings determined by the Asset Manager.

Example:

Assume: single premium is SGD1,000, and 5% allocation to Fund A at unit price of SGD1.00. The number of units subscribed for Fund A is  $(\text{SGD1,000} \times 5\%) / \text{SGD1.00} = 50$  units

8. Initial Purchase Price

The Initial purchase price of the respective ILP sub-funds will be in accordance with the price of the Underlying Fund on the launch date of the respective ILP sub-funds.

9. Withdrawals

(a) Partial Withdrawal

You may make a partial withdrawal of up to 95% of the Account Value at any time, provided the withdrawal amount is at least SGD1,000. The account value must not be less than SGD1,000 after the withdrawal. If the account value is below SGD1,000 at the point of withdrawal, the partial withdrawal will be considered as full surrender and the policy will be terminated.

We will redeem units from the policy at the applicable unit price to cover the partial withdrawal. The units will be redeemed proportionately across all applicable ILP sub-funds within the Portfolio. You are not allowed to request for withdrawal from specific ILP sub-fund(s).

Example:

Assume the partial withdrawal amount of SGD1,000:

ILP sub-fund	Allocation	Amount to be redeemed	Unit Price	Unit to be redeemed
A	30%	SGD300	SGD1.00	300
B	20%	SGD200	SGD2.00	100
C	25%	SGD250	SGD5.00	50
D	25%	SGD250	SGD2.50	100

(b) Full withdrawal

For full withdrawal, your Portfolio will be liquidated by selling all the units in the Portfolio at the applicable unit prices. Please refer to relevant Product Summary and Terms and Conditions for more information on the full withdrawal.

10. Switching

You may request for free switching to another Portfolio anytime. Your units in the ILP sub-funds in the current Portfolio will be adjusted accordingly to achieve the target allocation of the chosen Portfolio.

Risks

The ILP sub-fund is not listed on the Singapore Exchange, and you can redeem only on Business Days through Singapore Life Ltd. In respect of Singapore investors, there is no secondary market for the ILP sub-fund.

Please refer to the “Investment Risk” section in the Underlying Fund’s Irish Prospectus for a description of the risk factors associated with investing in the Underlying Funds. The risks may include:

Market and Credit Risk

- Fixed Income Securities and Downgrade Risk – Fixed income securities are subject to credit risk and price volatility. Fixed income securities are also exposed to the risk of being downgraded, which can cause a significant drop in the value of the Underlying Fund. The Sub-Investment Manager may or may not be able to dispose of the debt instruments that are being downgraded.
- Lower Rated Securities Risk – The Underlying Fund may invest in lower rated or unrated (i.e. non-investment grade or high yield) securities, which are more likely to react to developments affecting market and credit risk than are more highly rated securities. The Underlying Fund may therefore find it more difficult to sell such securities or may be able to sell these securities only at prices lower than if such securities were widely traded. The Underlying Fund may experience difficulty in valuing certain securities at certain times.
- Credit Risk – The Underlying Fund may invest in corporate fixed income securities. Corporate issuers of such fixed income securities may fail to meet their interest repayments, or repay debt, which may result in the Underlying Fund suffering temporary or permanent losses.
- Sovereign debt risk – The Underlying Fund may invest in government/sovereign fixed income securities, and will be exposed to direct or indirect consequences of political, social and economic changes in various countries by investing in sovereign debts.
- Emerging Market Economies Risk and Emerging Market Debt Securities Risk – Investing in emerging markets may involve heightened risks (some of which could be significant) such as greater social, economic and political uncertainty, and periods of extreme volatility. Debt securities of Emerging Market Countries may be subject to greater risk of loss of principal and interest and liquidity risk, and be exposed to fluctuations in yields or prices, than debt securities issued by obligors in developed countries.
- Risks Associated with Collateralised and/or Securitised Products – The Underlying Fund may invest in collateralised and/or securitised products, which may be prone to substantial price volatility, and subject to greater credit, liquidity and interest rate risk compared to other debt securities. They are often exposed to extension and prepayment risks and risks that the payment obligations relating to the underlying assets are not met, which may adversely impact the return of the securities.
- Currency Risk – The base currency value of the investment of the Underlying Fund designated in another currency may rise and fall due to exchange rate fluctuations in respect of the relevant currencies. The currency exchange rates of Emerging Market Countries tend to be more volatile than those of more developed countries. As the base currency of the Underlying Fund is not in Singapore dollars, Singapore investors may be exposed to an additional currency risk.
- Currency hedging risk – Currency hedging instruments may involve the risk of a default by a counterparty.
- Downside protection risk – Downside risk management may preclude the Underlying Fund from fully capturing the upside in rising markets. The Underlying Fund may therefore underperform funds that do not adopt such a downside protection strategy.

Product-Specific Risks

- Risks relating to the use of FDI – FDIs may be subject to various types of risks, including market risk, liquidity risk, counterparty credit risk, legal risk and operations risk. In addition, FDIs can involve significant economic leverage and may, in some cases, involve high risk of significant loss. The use of FDIs may lead to risk of loss of capital or increase the volatility of a Portfolio’s NAV.
- Risks relating to dividend payment – Dividends paid out of capital amount to a return or withdrawal of part of an investor’s original investment or from any capital gains attributable to that original investment which may result in an immediate decrease in the NAV of the relevant shares. An investment in high yield securities does not necessarily imply high dividend distribution for all share classes.

The above should not be considered to be an exhaustive list of the risks which you should consider before investing into the Underlying Fund. You should be aware that an investment in the Underlying Fund may be exposed to other risks of an exceptional nature from time to time. Please refer to the Underlying Fund's Prospectus for further details.

Risks

The ILP sub-fund is not listed on the Singapore Exchange and you can redeem only on Business Days through Singapore Life Ltd. In respect of Singapore investors, there is no secondary market for the ILP sub-fund.

Please refer to the “Risk Considerations” section and the “Specific Risk Considerations” section in the Underlying Fund’s Luxembourg Prospectus for a description of the risk factors associated with investing in the Underlying Funds. The risks may include:

Market and Credit Risk

- The Underlying Fund may be subject to Credit Risk of Issuers. The Underlying Fund may be exposed to the credit/default risk of bonds that it invests in. In the event of bankruptcy or default of an issuer, the Underlying Fund may experience losses and incur costs. The actual or perceived downgrading of a rated debt security or its issuer could decrease the value and liquidity of the security, and may have an adverse impact on the Fund. However, the Fund may continue to hold it to avoid a distressed sale.
- The Underlying Fund may be subject to Interest Rate Risks. An increase in interest rates may adversely affect the value of the bonds held by the Underlying Fund.
- The Underlying Fund may be subject to Sovereign Debt Risks. The Underlying Fund may invest in bonds issued or guaranteed by governments or authorities, which may involve political, economic, default, or other risks.

Product-Specific Risks

- The Underlying Fund may be subject to Derivatives Risks. The use of derivatives may expose the Underlying Fund to a higher degree of risk. Derivative contracts can be highly volatile and a relatively small market movement may have a potentially larger impact on derivatives than on standard bonds or equities. Leveraged derivative positions can hence increase the Underlying Fund’s volatility. The Underlying Fund may sustain loss as a result of the failure of a derivatives counterparty to comply with the terms of the derivatives contract.
- The Underlying Fund may be subject to Non-Investment Grade Bonds Risks. The Underlying Fund may invest in non-investment grade bonds. This may subject the Underlying Fund to higher credit/default risks, volatility and liquidity risks than investment grade bonds.

The above should not be considered to be an exhaustive list of the risks which you should consider before investing into the Underlying Fund. You should be aware that an investment in the Underlying Fund may be exposed to other risks of an exceptional nature from time to time. Please refer to the Underlying Fund’s Prospectus for further details.

The Sub-Fund’s portfolio of investments will be reviewed regularly so as to enable the Sub-Fund to switch out of overvalued securities to undervalued securities. A long term view is taken when assessing an investment opportunity. At the same time, the Underlying Fund Manager recognise that Asian markets are subject to greater volatility than developed markets and may therefore require a greater level of trading than originally envisaged. Their policy generally is to have the Sub-Fund fully invested save where there is overwhelming evidence to suggest that markets are excessively overvalued.

Risks

The ILP sub-fund is not listed on the Singapore Exchange and you can redeem only on Business Days through Singapore Life Ltd. In respect of Singapore investors, there is no secondary market for the ILP sub-fund. Please refer to segment on “Risks” in the Underlying Fund’s Singapore Prospectus for a description of the risk factors associated with investing in the Underlying Fund. The specific risks may include:

Market and Credit Risks

- You are exposed to market risk in the Asian bond markets. Prices of securities that the Underlying Fund invests in may be affected by changes in economic conditions, interest rates and the market’s perception of the securities which in turn may affect the value of your investment.

Product-Specific Risks

- You are exposed to political risk. The Underlying Fund’s investments may be adversely affected by political instability, exchange controls, changes in taxation, foreign investment policies, restrictions on repatriation of investments and other restrictions and controls.

- You are exposed to derivatives risk. The Underlying Fund may use or invest in FDIs. An investment in a FDI may require the deposit of initial margin and additional deposit of margin on short notice if the market moves against the investment position. If the required margin is not provided in time, the investment may be liquidated at a loss. We have the controls for investments in FDIs and have in place systems to monitor the derivative positions of the Underlying Fund.

- You are exposed to foreign exchange and currency risk. Where the Underlying Fund makes investments which are denominated in foreign currencies, fluctuations in the exchange rates of such foreign currencies against the Underlying Fund's base currency may affect the value of the relevant Units. The Underlying Fund's foreign currency exposure may not be fully hedged depending on the circumstances of each case.

• You are exposed to risk relating to distributions. Dividend/interest income of the Distribution Classes may be adversely affected by (amongst others) investee entities suffering unexpected losses and/or paying lower than expected dividends. Where distributable income and/or capital gains are insufficient, distributions may be made out of the capital of the relevant Class, which may amount to a reduction of the relevant Holder's original investment and may also result in reduced future returns to the relevant Holders. Payment of distributions (whether out of capital or otherwise) may have the effect of lowering the NAV of the relevant Class.

• You are exposed to debt securities risk. Investments in bonds and other debt securities are subject to interest rate fluctuations and credit risks, such as risk of default by issuers. The Underlying Fund may have a higher credit and default risk due to its exposure to high yield fixed income or debt securities.

• Other risks to your investment include small and medium capitalisation companies risk, regional risk, counterparty risk, broker risk, investment management risk and risk of using rating agencies and other third parties.

The above should not be considered to be an exhaustive list of the risks which you should consider before investing into the Underlying Fund. You should be aware that an investment in the Underlying Fund may be exposed to other risks of an exceptional nature from time to time. Please refer to the Underlying Fund's Prospectus for further details.

The Managers have a team of credit analysts for both Singapore fixed income issuers and high grade corporate issuers in the developed markets. This benefits the Managers Singapore credit research efforts as many high grade foreign issuers have issued Singapore-dollar denominated securities. For Singapore, Asia and emerging markets, the Managers team of credit analysts conducts a detailed credit analysis that evaluates industry outlook, business review, financial review, management expertise, strength of ownership and specific debt structure. This results in an implied rating score. Relative valuation will determine corporate credit selection. For rated issuers, mainly US/Europe high grade issuers, to supplement the fundamental analysis by their G10 credit team, the Managers have implemented a quantitative credit risk approach based from the KMV model. This model uses the Merton option framework to calculate the implied asset volatility or the Expected Default Frequency (EDF) of any corporate bond issue. Other inputs include an asset correlation database, which is generated from a proprietary risk management system. Together, the model will calculate the return-expected loss trade off for any corporate bond issue.

In respect of Singapore investors, there is no secondary market for the ILP sub-fund. The Underlying Fund’s or the relevant Class’ foreign currency exposure may not be fully hedged depending on the circumstances of each case.
- You are exposed to risk relating to distributions. Dividend/interest income of the Distribution Classes may be adversely affected by events such as (but not limited to) investee entities suffering unexpected losses and/or paying lower than expected dividends, and adverse currency exchange rate fluctuations. Payment of distributions (whether out of capital or otherwise) may have the effect of lowering the NAV of the relevant Class.

Risks

The ILP sub-fund is not listed on the Singapore Exchange and you can redeem only on Business Days through Singapore Life Ltd. In respect of Singapore investors, there is no secondary market for the ILP sub-fund. Please refer to "Risks" segment in the Underlying Fund's Singapore Prospectus for a description of the risk factors associated with investing in the Underlying Fund. The specific risks may include:

Market and Credit Risks

- You are exposed to price risk. The Shares, as well as the securities acquired by the Underlying Fund, are subject - as are any securities - to price risk. The risk of a decrease in the value of Shares, as well as the potential for an increase in their value, is usually greater in the case of an equity fund than in the case of a bond fund.
- You are exposed to equity risk. Companies issue common shares and other kinds of equity-related securities to help pay for their operations and financial necessity. Equity securities can go down in price for many reasons.
- You are exposed to exchange rate risk. The Shareholders are subject to this risk due to the different currencies which may be involved, that is the currency with which Shareholders have purchased Shares, the reference currency of the Underlying Fund or Class concerned and the currency of the securities in which the Underlying Fund invests.
- You are exposed to counterparty risk. In entering into transactions which involve counterparties, there is a risk that a counterparty will wholly or partially fail to honour its contractual obligations. In the event of a default, bankruptcy or insolvency of a counterparty, the Underlying Fund could experience delays in liquidating the position and significant losses and may only achieve limited or possibly no recovery in such circumstances.
- You are exposed to liquidity risk. The Company may invest in securities and instruments that can be relatively illiquid which may cause the Company to lose money or incur extra costs when selling those securities.

Product-Specific Risks

- You are exposed to emerging market risk. The Sub-Fund invests in equity and equity-related securities throughout the world that provide exposure to emerging markets which tend to be more volatile than mature markets and its value could move sharply up or down. In some circumstances, the underlying investments may become illiquid which may constrain the Investment Manager's ability to realise some or all of the portfolio. The registration and settlement arrangements in emerging markets may be less developed than in more mature markets so the operational risks of investing are higher. Political risks and adverse economic circumstances are more likely to arise.
- You are exposed to currency risk. Shares Classes may be available in different currencies than the reference currency of the Sub-Fund, and therefore will be converted to the reference currency of the Sub-Fund at the point of investment. This investment will then be converted back to the reference currency of the Share Class at the point at which an investor withdraws their money from the Sub-Fund. The investor will therefore receive the return of the underlying investments in the Sub-Fund, as well as the currency movement between the reference currency of the Sub-Fund and the reference currency of the Share Class.

• You are exposed to sustainability risk. The risk arising from any environmental, social or governance events or conditions that, were they to occur, could cause material negative impact on the value of the investment. The Underlying Fund may invest into underlying funds which use or invest in FDI's, and it is possible that the Underlying Fund's NAV may be subject to volatility due to the Underlying Fund's or the relevant underlying fund's usage or investment in FDI's.

• You should be aware that your investment in the Fund may be exposed to other risks of an exceptional nature from time to time.

The above should not be considered to be an exhaustive list of the risks which you should consider before investing into the Underlying Fund. You should be aware that an investment in the Underlying Fund may be exposed to other risks of an exceptional nature from time to time. Please refer to the Underlying Fund's Prospectus for further details.

In respect of Singapore investors, there is no secondary market for the ILP sub-fund. Please refer to “Risk Factors” in the Underlying Fund’s Singapore Prospectus for a description of the risk factors associated with investing in the Underlying Fund. The specific risks may include:

Market and Credit Risks

- You are exposed to emerging markets risk. Emerging markets are less established, and more volatile, than developed markets. They involve higher risks, particularly market, credit, illiquid security, legal, custody, valuation and currency risks.
- You are exposed to equities risk. Equities can lose value rapidly, and typically involve higher market risks than bonds or money market instruments.
- You are exposed to market risk. Prices and yields of securities can change frequently with significant volatility based on a wide variety of factors, such as political and economic news, government policy and climate patterns.

Product-Specific Risks

- You are exposed to counterparty and collateral risk. A counterparty could be unwilling or unable to meet its obligations to the Underlying Fund. The value of collateral might not cover the full value of a transaction, or any fees or returns owed to the Underlying Fund.
- You are exposed to currency risk. Any changes in currency exchange rates could significantly reduce investment gains or income, or increase investment losses.
- You are exposed to derivatives risk. The value of derivatives can be volatile. Small movements in an underlying asset’s value can create large changes in the derivative’s value and expose the fund to losses that could be greater than the cost of the derivative itself.

- You are exposed to hedging risk. Hedging may not work as intended and involves costs, which reduce investment performance.
- You are exposed to investment fund risk. Investing in an Underlying Fund involves certain risks an investor would not face if investing in markets directly, such as large outflows, valuation error and investment limitations.
- You are exposed to operational risk. The Underlying Fund could suffer losses due to errors, service disruptions or other failures, fraud, corruption, cyber crime, instability, terrorism or other irregular events.
- You are exposed to sustainable investing risk. The Underlying Fund may underperform the market or other funds that do not apply sustainability criteria.
- You are exposed to volatility risk. The Underlying Fund's NAV has potential for high volatility due to its investment policy or portfolio management techniques.

The above should not be considered to be an exhaustive list of the risks which you should consider before investing into the Underlying Fund. You should be aware that an investment in the Underlying Fund may be exposed to other risks of an exceptional nature from time to time. Please refer to the Underlying Fund's Prospectus for further details.

In respect of Singapore investors, there is no secondary market for the ILP sub-fund. Please refer to "Main Risks" as well as "other associated risks" segments in the Underlying Fund's Singapore Prospectus for a description of the risk factors associated with investing in the Underlying Fund. The specific risks may include:

Market and Credit Risks

YOU ARE EXPOSED TO MARKET RISKS

- Concentration – When an Underlying Fund invests in a limited number of securities, issuers, industries, sectors or within a limited geographical area, it is likely to be more volatile and risky as its performance will be more strongly affected by political, economic, environmental or market conditions within that area or economic sector.

- China risk – Investing in the domestic market of the People’s Republic of China (PRC) is subject to the risks of investing in emerging markets and additionally risks that are specific to the PRC market including risk in investing through Stock Connect.
  - Emerging markets may be subject to increased political, regulatory and economic instability, less developed custody and settlement practices, poor transparency, greater financial risks, higher volatility and lower liquidity than developed markets.
  - Equities – The value of equity securities may go down as well as up in response to the performance of individual companies and general market conditions sometimes rapidly or unpredictably.
- Stocks of smaller companies may be less liquid, more volatile and tend to carry greater financial risk than stocks of larger companies.

YOU ARE EXPOSED TO CURRENCY RISKS

- Currency – Movements in currency exchange rates can adversely affect the return of your investment. Investing in a share class not denominated in SGD will expose you to additional currency risks.
- Hedging – Any measures taken to offset specific risks could work imperfectly. Hedging may be used to mitigate currency, duration, market or credit risk. Hedging involves costs, which reduce investment performance.

YOU ARE EXPOSED TO DERIVATIVES RISKS

The Underlying Fund may, within its prescribed limits, invest in derivatives for hedging and Efficient Portfolio Management purposes. The value of derivatives can be volatile because a small movement in the value of the underlying asset can cause a large movement in the value of the derivative, resulting in losses in excess of the amount invested by the Sub-Fund.

YOU ARE EXPOSED TO SECURITIES LENDING RISKS

The use of securities lending exposes the Sub-Fund to counterparty risk and liquidity risk.

The above should not be considered to be an exhaustive list of the risks which you should consider before investing into the Underlying Fund. You should be aware that an investment in the Underlying Fund may be exposed to other risks of an exceptional nature from time to time. Please refer to the Underlying Fund’s Prospectus for further details.

Investment Objectives, Focus and Approach

Underlying Fund	Investment Objectives, Focus and Approach
abrdn Select Portfolio - abrdn All China Sustainable Equity Fund (SGD Class)	The Underlying Fund aims to provide capital growth by investing all or substantially all of its assets in the abrdn SICAV I – All China Sustainable Equity Fund, a sub-fund of the Luxembourg-registered abrdn SICAV I Fund range (“abrdn SICAV I”). abrdn

	SICAV I – All China Sustainable Equity Fund invests at least 90% of its assets in equities and equity-related securities of companies listed, incorporated or domiciled in China; or companies that derive a significant proportion of their revenues or profits from Chinese operations or have a significant proportion of their assets there. abrdn SICAV I – All China Sustainable Equity Fund may invest up to 100% of its net assets in Mainland China equity and equity-related securities through the Shanghai-Hong Kong and Shenzhen-Hong Kong Stock Connect programme or by any other available means, a 30% limit applies to QFI regime. The abrdn SICAV I – All China Sustainable Equity Fund is actively managed. The abrdn SICAV I – All China Sustainable Equity Fund aims to outperform the MSCI China All Shares Index (USD) benchmark before charges. The benchmark is also used as a reference point for portfolio construction and as a basis for setting risk constraints, but does not incorporate any sustainable criteria. In order to achieve its objective, the abrdn SICAV I – All China Sustainable Equity Fund will take positions whose weightings diverge from the benchmark and may invest in securities which are not included in the benchmark. The investments of the abrdn SICAV I – All China Sustainable Equity Fund may deviate significantly from the components of and their respective weightings in the benchmark. Due to the active and sustainable nature of the management process, the abrdn SICAV I – All China Sustainable Equity Fund’s performance profile may deviate significantly from that of the benchmark. The abrdn SICAV I – All China Sustainable Equity Fund promotes environmental and social characteristics but does not have a sustainable investment objective. The abrdn SICAV I All China Sustainable Equity Fund contains high-quality companies that have been identified through the bottom-up equity research process which takes into consideration the sustainability of the business in its broadest sense and the company’s environmental, social and governance (“ESG”) performance. A minimum of 90% of the abrdn SICAV I – All China Sustainable Equity Fund’s assets are aligned with environmental/social characteristics. Investment in all equity and equity-related securities will follow abrdn’s “All China Sustainable Equity Investment Approach”. Through the application of this approach the abrdn SICAV I All China Sustainable Equity Fund has an expected minimum of 20% in Sustainable Investments. Furthermore, the abrdn SICAV I All China Sustainable Equity Fund targets an ESG rating that is equal to or better, and a meaningfully lower carbon intensity, than the benchmark. This approach utilizes abrdn’s equity investment process, which enables portfolio managers to qualitatively identify and focus investment in sustainable leaders and improvers. Sustainable leaders are viewed as companies with the best in class ESG credentials or products and services which address global environmental and societal challenges, whilst improvers are typically companies with average governance, ESG

	management practices and disclosure with potential for improvement. Within abrdn's equity investment process, for all companies under coverage, the foundations of each business is analysed to ensure proper context for the abrdn SICAV I – All China Sustainable Equity Fund's investments. This includes the durability of its business model, the attractiveness of its industry, the strength of its financials and the sustainability of its economic moat. The portfolio managers also consider the quality of its management team and analyse the environmental, social and governance (ESG) opportunities and risks impacting the business and appraise how well these are managed. A proprietary score (1 indicates best in class and 5 indicates laggard) to articulate the quality attributes of each company will be assigned, one of which is the ESG Quality rating (which is an important consideration in assessing whether a stock is a sustainable leader or improver). Companies eligible for inclusion must have an ESG Quality rating of 3 or better. This enables the portfolio managers to exclude companies with material ESG risks and positively skew the portfolio towards ESG opportunities and to build well-diversified, risk-adjusted portfolios. Please refer to the Underlying Fund's Prospectus for details on abrdn's equity investment process, research and ESG House Score. More detail on this overall process is also captured within the All China Sustainable Equity Investment Approach, which is published at www.abrdn.com under "Fund Centre". The abrdn SICAV I All China Sustainable Equity Fund is subject to Article 8 of the SFDR. Further information can be found under the section "EU's Sustainable Finance Disclosure Regulation – Sustainability Risk Integration" under Appendix 1 of this Prospectus. Additionally, please note that the Additional Information required to be disclosed under paragraph 14 of the ESG Circular may be found in the SFDR Annex of the abrdn SICAV I - All China Sustainable Equity Fund which is appended to the prospectus for the abrdn SICAV I, which is published at www.abrdn.com under "Fund Centre".

Market Risks

- You are exposed to market risk. Prices of the securities owned by the Underlying Fund may rise or fall in response to changes in economic conditions, political conditions, interest rates, and market sentiment. These may cause the price of units of the Underlying Fund to go up or down

Product-Specific Risks

- You are exposed to currency risk. The assets and income of the Underlying Fund will be substantially denominated in currencies other than the Singapore dollar. Currency fluctuations between foreign currencies and the Singapore dollar may affect the income and valuation of the assets of the Underlying Fund in ways unrelated to business performance.

- You are exposed to emerging markets risk. Exposure to emerging markets increases potential volatility in your portfolio as the legal, judicial and regulatory infrastructure in emerging markets is still developing and this may create uncertainty for investors.
- You are exposed to single country risk. The Underlying Fund invests in a single country market, making it more concentrated and potentially more volatile than if it invested across regional or global markets.
- You are exposed to additional risks related to the Underlying Fund's investment in Chinese securities through the use of a Qualified Foreign Institutional Investor ("QFII") licence. If the creditors of the QFII successfully assert that the securities and other assets in the nominee accounts are owned by the QFII and not the relevant Underlying Fund, the creditors of the QFII may seek payment from the assets of the relevant Underlying Fund, which could in turn affect the net asset value of the Underlying Fund.
- You are exposed to additional risks related to the Underlying Fund's investment in Chinese securities through the Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect program. The Underlying Fund may invest in certain eligible China A-shares through the Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect program, which is subject to other risks, including regulatory change, clearing and settlement risks, recalling of eligible stocks, quota limitations and also operational constraints, amongst other matters, which may result in increased risk.
- You are exposed to Variable Interest Entity ("VIE") risk. The Underlying Fund may invest in companies with VIE structures in order to gain exposure to industries with foreign ownership restrictions. There is a risk that the authorities in the country where the company is incorporated could take action which would have an adverse impact on the value of one or more VIEs

The above should not be considered to be an exhaustive list of the risks which you should consider before investing into the Underlying Fund. You should be aware that an investment in the Underlying Fund may be exposed to other risks of an exceptional nature from time to time.
